Subject: FCC Seeking Comment on Adding a Missing and Endangered Persons Event Code to the Emergency Alert System

Greetings from the Federal Communications Commission.

On March 15, 2024, the Commission released a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM), FCC 24-30, seeking comment on its proposal to adopt a new Emergency Alert System (EAS) event code for Missing and Endangered Persons (MEP).

The EAS is a national public warning system, through which TV and radio broadcasters, cable systems, and other service providers deliver alerts to the public to warn them of impending emergencies and dangers to life and property. The proposed new MEP event code will allow for the transmission of “ASHANTI alerts” associated with missing or abducted persons from states, territories, or tribal communities that fall outside of America’s Missing: Broadcast Emergency Response (AMBER) Alert notification criteria to the public over the EAS.

While a widespread concern, the issue of missing and endangered persons is particularly prevalent in Tribal communities, where American Indian and Alaska Native people are at a disproportionate risk of experiencing violence, murder, or vanishing. In November 2023, the National Congress of American Indians adopted a resolution calling for the FCC to establish an MEP event code. The FCC proposes adopting the new MEP event code to facilitate the rapid and coordinated delivery of alert notifications about missing and endangered persons to the public in a uniform and consistent manner and is seeking public comment on this proposal.

Comments and reply comments for the NPRM will be due 30 and 60 days, respectively, after the NPRM is published in the Federal Register.

If you would like to file comments, you may file them using the Commission’s Electronic Comment Filing System (ECFS), <https://www.fcc.gov/ecfs/filings/standard> under proceeding PS Docket Nos. 15-91 and 15-94, or email native@fcc.gov.

As discussed in the NPRM, ONAP will issue a public notice at a later date to announce the commencement of Tribal consultation on the topics raised in the NPRM.

Thank you for your continued support.
