Subject: FCC Announces Tribal Webinar on its Upcoming Filing Window for Applications for Low Power FM New Station Construction Permits

Greetings from the Office of Native Affairs and Policy at the Federal Communications Commission.

The Federal Communications Commission's Media Bureau and the Office of Native Affairs and Policy are hosting an informational webinar on the upcoming application filing window for new Low Power FM (LPFM) radio stations. The webinar will take place on Thursday, October 12, 2023, from 2pm-3:30pm ET. The webinar will provide an overview of the LPFM application filing requirements and comparative selection process, and explain how you can apply.

The LPFM filing window provides Tribes, among others, the opportunity to apply for a new LPFM station that can cover a localized service area in need of radio service. The FCC will accept LPFM applications for the entire FM band (channels 201-300) during the filing window, which opens on November 1, 2023, and closes on November 8, 2023. Applicants must file their applications electronically through the FCC Media Bureau's Licensing and Management System.

Official registration is not required for this event, but recommended. To register, please send an email to Tribal.Events@fcc.gov with "October 12th Webinar" in the subject line. Registrants will receive a Zoom link that will allow them to enter the webinar. In advance of this event, questions can be submitted by sending an email to Tribal.Events@fcc.gov.

Visit the event webpage here. If you have any questions, please contact ONAP at Native@fcc.gov.
